

ServiceLink Appoints Jane Johnson as SVP of Loss Mitigation Services

PITTSBURGH, October 21, 2009 – ServiceLink, a leading provider of mortgage origination and default services nationwide and the national mortgage lender platform for the Fidelity National Financial family of companies (NYSE: FNF), announced today that Jane Johnson has been appointed Senior Vice President of Loss Mitigation Services.

Ms. Johnson will have responsibility for all loss mitigation operations, including loan modifications, HMP outsourcing and short sale processing. Ms. Johnson brings over 20 years industry experience with a strong background in servicing large integrated mortgage portfolios. During her tenure in the mortgage industry, Ms. Johnson has spearheaded the use of leading technology solutions in servicing, helping to streamline processes and consistently deliver first-rate customer service.

“We have experienced tremendous growth in our loss mitigation group and Jane’s knowledge and experience will be a tremendous asset in our continued expansion.” said George Schwartz, EVP and Division President of ServiceLink’s Default Division. “Our default services group is a premier provider of title, settlement, valuation, loss mitigation, and asset management and disposition services to mortgage servicers nationwide”

“As the dynamics of the market continue to change, the need for effective loss mitigation solutions has never been greater”, added Jeff Coury, President & CEO of ServiceLink. “We are focused on working with our clients to build products, processes and solutions that help them best serve their borrowers. We are pleased to have Jane join our management team to lead this initiative.”

Since 1998, Ms. Johnson has served in senior positions at Citi Residential Lending, and AMC Mortgage Services, which was acquired by Citibank in 2003. Most recently, she was responsible for providing strategic direction and oversight in the execution of Citibank’s large-scale portfolio of residential mortgage holdings. Prior to her tenure at Citi Residential Services, Ms. Johnson served in various risk assessment, loss mitigation, workout and compliance positions at Countrywide Home Loan. Ms. Johnson holds a B.S. in Business Administration from California Lutheran University.
